ALCIDE ACCUSANI

Category: Dairy products
business description: The Accusani Alcide farm is nestled in the picturesque landscape of the Alto Monferrato hills in the municipality of Spigno.

Formaggetta is an institution in the Piedmont countryside. Today, the denomination has gathered a number of producers in the most suitable areas. Like Alcide Accusani, who raises a herd of goats in the meadows surrounding his farmhouse, from which he obtains the milk for his formaggette. Available fresh or at various stages of aging, they are delicious on their own, enhanced with a drizzle of olive oil, or, for the more mature cheeses, grated over pasta.
